CLAY TARGET SHOOTING @ CHESTHILL

Clay target shooting and instruction at a discreet location set against a fantastic background.

Wide range of other events and country activities available.

“BREATH TAKING”

North Chesthill Estate is a small, very special private family highland estate in west central Perthshire. The Estate is run sympathetically along traditional lines where a mix of agriculture, red and roe deer stalking, salmon and trout fishing, along with a little forestry join together throughout the cycle of the year to provide sustainable employment.

The Estate diversified into clay pigeon shooting about 4 years ago, successfully adding new targets annually. The shooting ground is laid out for sporting targets of many varieties and majors on introducing people to shooting and the tuition of novices. But equally, the experienced shot will find plenty to challenge them.

The shooting ground sits in spectacular countryside at the foot of mountains rising to 3000 feet. Deer and Eagles can be seen – and are quite undisturbed by activity in the lower glen.

The estate provides all the traditional aspects of highland sport (in season). As well, the Estate runs a medley of country sports activity (mainly for parties) to entertain and to introduce people to something quite different and unique.

We have entertained up to fifty at a time, even in winter!!

We look forward to seeing you here.
